THE WEATHER.

LOCAL BULLETIN.

LOS ANGELES SIGNAL OFFICE, Dec. 7.—At 4:07 a.m. to-day the thermometer registered 41; at 12:07 p.m., 56, and at 7:07 p.m., 52. Barometer for corresponding periods, 30.14, 30.15, 30.15.
Maximum temperature, 61.0; minimum, 40.0.
Weather at 7:07 p.m., clear.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Indications for the twenty-four hours commencing at 4 a.m. December 8th: California, cloudy weather and occasional rains.

Office-Temple, Main and New High.

On. is making it lively in Pittsburgh.

THE SAN FRANCISCO stock market was a see-saw yesterday.

SENATOR WILLIAMS has been in-itated at Washington.

MILWAUKEE should take points from Chicago on Anarchists.

THE Federation of Trades Unions is holding its annual session.

LOS ANGELES capital is getting in its solid work in Fresno county.

THE country is slowly crawling out from under the President's message.

SAN LUIS OBISPO county is getting up a smart little boom of her own.

MEXICO is happy. The Patti-seat swindler has been corralled. He is supposed to be a "metropolitan generalist."

THE Express thanks God that there will be no more elections for two years.

It is good to find something to be thankful for, and most people will say amen.

While the soft Pacific surf is laying the December bathers at our seaside resorts, the usual grist of winter shipwrecks is going on along the Atlantic coast.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY leads the State in relative increase of taxable values during the last five years. For that matter, it would be hard to find any county in the United States to show an equal relative increase.

THE Goldenson case is evidently going the way of other San Francisco murder cases. Russia is to be ransacked to see if any of the villainous murderer's anteprecipitate ancestors ever were crazy. A good way to treat the assassin offspring of crazy great-grand parents is with hemp.

As prophesied in yesterday's issue, THE TIMES was the only paper in the city which gave the full text of the President's message in any workman-like shape. It made twelve columns of solid minion in THE TIMES. The Herald had the message, but badly botched by careless handling. The Tribune had four and a half columns of a cheap condensation, with occasional quotations from the message. This was one of the real test cases, and THE TIMES alone did not fall down.

Let's see wasn't it the Tribune which announced with a great flam-boyance, at its inception, that now, for the first time the citizens of Los Angeles would have a chance to read a metropolitan telegraphic budget? Hm!
Likewise, ho!

ORGANIZED LABOR.

Annual Session of the Federation of Trades Unions.

COLUMBIA, Dec. 7.—[By the Western Associated Press.] The Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions of the United States and Canada, opened its annual session to-day. The meeting was to have been held in St. Louis, but was changed to this city owing to the convention of National Trades Unions, which convenes here to-morrow. There are a large number of delegates coming, and it is expected that they will form a union. President Gompers says he regrets the attention of the organized association looking to a confederation and failing to be represented.

Griffin Pearce, representative of the State Trades Assembly, delivered an address, congratulating the federation on the stand it had taken not to mix labor with politics. President Gompers, replying, reviewed the past work of trades unions. As organizations, he said, they are against riot, tumult and anarchy, and socialism in all its bearings.

An adjournment was taken to 3 p.m., and some excitement was created in the hall by John R. Winders, of San Francisco, at the head of the International Typographical Union, beginning action for the expulsion of W. T. G. Shanks, correspondent of the New York Tribune.

Another Luckless Broker.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—It is learned to-night that E. C. Tobin, stock-broker at 314 Montgomery street, made an assignment late afternoon to T. J. L. Smiley. His liabilities are stated to be $25,000; assets, $10,000.

Evil Fruits.

(San Francisco Chronicle.)

The pestilential bookkeeper, Mize, who has robbed his employer in Chicago of $100,000 in ten years, is the latest instance of the evil fruits of living in an atmosphere of speculation. No man would have had the incentive to steal so much had he not been a speculator. The temptation to risk money belonging to others, when a great fortune seems within reach, is one of the worst features of the speculative mania. Men who would be content with the savings from good salaries are demoralized by the sudden gains of their associates who make lucky investments, and speculation follows as a natural result.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—[By the Western Associated Press.] Among the estimates of appropriations required for the fiscal year sent by the Secretary of the Treasury to Congress, is one of $100,000 for the improvement of Wilmington Harbor, Cal.

The President will transmit to Congress to-morrow a report from the Secretary of State in regard to fisheries in waters adjacent to British North America, and conveys the correspondence which has taken place during the present year on that subject.

Mr. Crane, of Texas, introduced a joint resolution in the House to-day, proposing to amend the Constitution so as to change the date of the meeting of Congress to the second Tuesday in January.

FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

Second Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senate.—Mr. Ingalls made a statement as to the withholding from homestead entry of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad lands in New Mexico, declared forfeited by the act of July 6, 1886, intimating that the fault lay with the Commissioner of the Land Office, who seemed to regard every year as a kleptomaniac, who bound on pillage and plunder, and he offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Secretary of the Interior to inform the Senate whether such lands had been returned to entry, and if not, to restore the occasion of the delay.

Mr. Morrill offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the promise of making any reversion of the tariff in a spirit of fairness to all interests, not to the injury of domestic industries but to promote their healthy growth so that any change of the law must be at every step regarded as a kleptomaniac, who bound on pillage and plunder, and he offered
turned to entry, and if not, to restore the occasion of the delay.

UNIVERSITY PLACE, Dec. 7.—[Cor-

No pen could do it justice.

He was advertised to speak on Mormonism, but had the misfortune to lose the manuscript, and decided to speak on the "Seven wonders of the world."

His way of introduction he spoke of the wonders of the ancient world, as the Hanging Gardens, the Temple of Di-onis, etc.; but what were any of these compared with the Brooklyn bridge, a monument to the telegraph? He then described what he considered the seven wonders, not of art but of nature, of the new world, to-wit: The Natural Bridge, the Mammoth Cave, Niagara Falls, the geysers of the National park,

Roswell, the "Well," said the speaker, "what shall I get in for these seven?"

California! California, with its vast territory, its cultivated fields requiring a whole day to cut a single furrow, where the plowman must camp out and return the next day; with its grapes like the clusters of Eschol, its watermelons weighing 175 pounds, its beets six feet long, etc. Of course the readers will understand that this was intended as a freak of face-ness. It was indescribably funny.

He lectured in an Eastern city on California, and a drunken man cried out in aggrieved speech: "Mr. Brown, here's a dollar." "For what?" "The lies you have told are worth a dollar."

As a "take off" on the big stories, a man said he stopped at a hotel some where up north and called for eggs.

The landlord told him he could have a part of an egg. He soon rolled in an egg as large as a flour-barrel. While playing with a spoon from the little to serve his guest, the latter said:

"You must have large hens in this country?" "O, no, it took eight or ten eggs to lay that egg."

Mr. Brown has wonderful powers of description, and held his audience spellbound for an hour and a half. We consider it among the best lectures we ever heard.

SCRIB.

Santa Ana.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 4.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The changes that have place in this town during the past six months strike the occasional visitor as something marvelous.

There were but a few good buildings, the business places were principally old wooden buildings, which are now given way to fine brick blocks, and the transformation still goes on with larger and more extensive plans for the future. The advance in the price of the lots and the rapidity with which they sell fairly takes the breath away from some of the older, more conservative settlers. The efforts to induce visitors to visit this valley are no longer so meager that their merits are so widely known as of many places of more pretensions and no more value.

Yesterday, 50 feet front by 100 feet lot with two old wooden buildings on one of the business streets, but not long, was sold for $5000. The activity does not amount to a boom, it is a steady healthy growth and expects to the ranch property adjoining is no doubt the result of such satisfactory returns from the grape industry and the promising orange crops. G.

best direction, and the citizens have decided
